

DISCOVER NEW TRADITIONS

A quick glance at the City calendar shows that every month there are events in Santa Clara that offer a new experience. Many are sponsored by the City, such as the biggest civic celebration of the year – the Art & Wine Festival in September that brings together 25,000+ residents and visitors in Central Park. Other events like the Friday Night Live series organized by the Cultural Commission introduce the community to multicultural performances in smaller venues throughout the year.

The diversity of Santa Clara’s population provides a culturally rich array of religious and secular holidays, ethnic celebrations and traditions. Greet the Lunar New Year at the Library, enjoy an outdoor mariachi concert on a summer afternoon, have breakfast with Santa in December – opportunities abound for your family to find new and fun activities that become an important part of your year, every year.

Information about events is featured on the City’s website and in the Inside Santa Clara newspaper distributed to all households and businesses three times a year.

The annual All-City Picnic and Fireworks display is a hometown celebration of America’s Independence Day.
