Nationally Recognized Testing Laboratories (NRTLs) are 3rd party certification organizations approved by OSHA. The most widely known NRTL is UL, and the full list of NRTLs is at https://www.osha.gov/dts/otpca/nrtl/nrtllist.html. Internal wiring of equipment that is listed and labeled by a NRTL need not be inspected at time of installation. Equipment that is not listed and labeled requires 3rd party certification, which can be obtained from one of the following approved independent companies:
