JOIN US FOR A DISCUSSION ABOUT

The future of Santa Clara Civic Center

The Civic Center, located at 1500 Warburton Ave., is the administrative core for the City of Santa Clara. Most of the buildings in the Civic Center were built in the 1960s when the workforce and residential population were much smaller. As the population of the community has grown, so has the demand for City services and the City's office space needs. Managing this growth has been challenging.

Join us as we discuss the Civic Center Concept Plan and Utility Building Project. We need your help in shaping the future development of Santa Clara Civic Center.
